

VITAE
Gregory M. Crow, Ph.D.

EDUCATION

Rosemead Graduate School of Professional Psychology, Rosemead, California
Ph.D. – Counseling Psychology, June, 1978
Rosemead Graduate School of Professional Psychology, Rosemead, California
M.A. – Psychology, June 1975
University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minnesota
B.A. – Psychology, December, 1971

WORK EXPERIENCE

Psychologist in private practice, Scottsdale, Arizona
August, 1988 – Present
Staff Psychologist, Psychological Counseling Services, Ltd., Scottsdale, Arizona
April, 1982 – August, 1988
Program Director, treatment Centers of America, Scottsdale, Arizona
August, 1983 – December, 1984
Staff Psychologist, Las Encinas Hospital, Pasadena, California
September, 1978 – April, 1982
Psychological Assistant, Alhambra Psychiatric Hospital, Rosemead, California
March, 1978 – August, 1978
Psychology Intern, Pomona Psychiatric Hospital, Pomona, California
July, 1977 – March, 1978

LICENSURE

Psychologist, Arizona State Board of Psychologist Examiners, Certification No. 974

REGISTRATION

National Register of Health Service Providers in Psychology

PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIPS

American Psychological Association
Member 1980 – Present
Arizona Psychological Association
Member 1982 – Present
Christian Association for Psychological Studies
Member 2000 – Present

SPECIALTIES

Couple counseling and communication skills
Addictionology – including chemical dependency, eating disorders and sexual addiction
Treatment of co-dependency and adult children of dysfunctional families
Treatment of the effects of sexual abuse and other post-traumatic stress

PUBLICATIONS

Earle, Ralph H., Ph.D. and Gregory M. Crow, Ph.D.
(1989). Lonely All The Time: Recognizing, Understanding, and Overcoming Sex
Addiction. New York: Pocket Books (division of Simon and Schuster).